

Version of 10. Januar 2024

Being serious about the no net land take target – it's time to start

February 1st, 2024, 11.30-14.00, online

Please register at: Anmeldung_ug@oeko.de

Time	Agenda Item
11:30 – 11:35	Welcome note and introduction German Environment Agency / Oeko-Institute
11:35 – 11:45	Welcome note from the European Parliament Manuela Ripa, MEP
11:45 – 11:55	Land take – a European phenomenon caught between soil protection and land use planning Dr. Elisabeth Marquard/Dr. Elisabeth Henn, UFZ
11:55 – 12:05	No net land take in sight? Ongoing activities on land take in Europe Dr. Laura von Vittorelli, Oeko Institute
12:05 – 12:15	Gathering land take data– how the method makes some difference Prof. Dr. Stefan Fina, Hochschule Augsburg
12:15 – 12:30	Implementing No Net Land Take – pioneer countries going ahead? Peter Lacoere HOGENT Institute, Flanders
12:30 – 12:45	EU Soil Strategy and Soil Monitoring Law – two game changers for land take in Europe? Mirco Barbero, European Commission
12:45 – 13:00	Questions & Answers
13:00 – 13:15	Coffee break
13:15 – 13:55	Together towards net zero – keeping the balance between scientific needs and political and legal feasibility? Round table, participants tbc Facilitator: Dr. Ralph Bodle, Ecologic Institute
13:55 – 14:00	Final Remarks and Closing German Environment Agency

Organizer

Detlef Grimski,
German Environment Agency

With the support of

Oeko-Institute e.V.

UFZ - Helmholtz Centre for Environmental Research

Project coordinator: Dr. Laura von Vittorelli
l.vonvittorelli@oeko.de